

Bledlow Ridge School

'I am proud to be me!

What makes you:

- special?
- different?
- unique?

Why is it important to teach pupils in primary school about the 9 protected characteristics?

Equality Act 2010

Protected Characteristics

It is against the law to discriminate against someone because of their:

AGE

DISABILITY

SEX

MARRIAGE AND CIVIL PARTNERSHIP

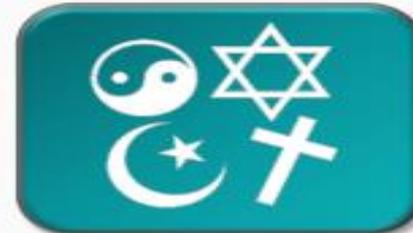

RACE

PREGNANCY AND MATERNITY

SEXUAL ORIENTATION

RELIGION OR BELIEF

GENDER REASSIGNMENT

protected-characteristics-assembly)
1decision.co.uk

To prevent discrimination we can all try to be respectful to each other.

Each and every one of us are unique and special, we should all be respected by others, and in return respect those around us.

Let's think about ways we can be respectful and supportive to others

Reflection

Closing thought:

Remember, treating everyone with kindness and respect, no matter who they are, is the most important thing.

There are no outsiders.